Rocky Mountain Bead Society

About the RMBS

The Rocky Mountain Bead Society (RMBS) was founded in 1992 by Past President Leslie Sartor to help people interested in bead study and beading techniques find a way to share knowledge and explore new dimensions. Twenty-five people came to the first meeting. Today, we have nearly 200 members and our society continues to grow.

We provide exciting, informative, and relevant programs and workshops with locally and nationally recognized artists in their fields. We sponsor a bead bazaar and promote bead education through programs, classes and workshops. We have a member bookstore and library. Society members frequently bring beads and their latest creations to show and tell.

The RMBS has bead lovers of all descriptions. Our Society includes people who make beaded jewelry, who collect ancient beads, who make lampworked glass, who wrap wire, and kneaders and bakers of polymer clay (PC) or precious metal clay (PMC). Our membership includes fine jewelers, silversmiths, metal masters, authors, weavers and people who create wearable art from seed beads.

The RMBS has given back to the local community and world projects by participating in such projects as making jewelry for residents of local women's shelters, donating to the Boys and Girls Club of America and helping with the Ethiopian HOPE Bracelet Project.

Events, Classes, and Workshops

The RMBS sponsors Programs and Classes and Workshops by local and national artists, collectors and bead experts. We also sponsor a nationally recognized Bead Bazaar held each April.

Volunteers

We are a society made up of volunteers and rely on our members to run our organization, led by a board with committees at the heart of it all. Membership in the RMBS is annual and starts when you sign-up. Membership fees are reasonable and multi-tiered for individuals, families, business owners who may join the society by completing the membership form with the applicable fees. RMBS has entertaining and helpful programs during its monthly meetings featuring local and national artists. These meetings are usually on the third Thursday of the month from 6:00- 9:00pm at TACtile Arts. RMBS members enjoy a 20% discount at the RMBS book table on meeting nights. Local participating shops often offer society members discounts of up to 10%.

Communication

Our web site, Facebook page, Linked In and emails provide constant communication of our available events, meetings, workshops, news of authors and expert lectures along with providing sources for buying beading supplies. It also lists details and applications for membership in the RMBS. People can register for our classes and workshops on the Website.

Rocky Mountain

BEAD BAZAAR

Welcome to the annual Rocky Mountain Bead Society Bead Bazaar held each April at the Denver Mart.

The Rocky Mountain Bead Society was formed to:

- Advance the study of and education about beads.
- Encourage and promote public appreciation for beads and the art of beading.
- Disseminate information about beads and beading.
- Develop and administer programs concerning beads and beading.
- Establish and maintain an RMBS book collection and library and
- Publish and preserve writings about the history of beads and beading.

Please see our web site, rockybeads.org, for meeting information, classes and upcoming events.

We have some fabulous classes offered this year by many nationally known instructors. There are classes for all levels. Please register on line to reserve your place in class. The deadline for registrations is April 12, 2013.

I would like to thank the Bead Bazaar Committee and the board members of the Rocky Mountain Bead Society for making this show possible. But most of all, I would like to thank all of the volunteers, without whom there would be no Bead Society or Bead Bazaar. They work tirelessly to make this the best show possible.

General Information for all Classes

Rocky Mountain Bead Society

2013 Bead Bazaar Class Schedule

April 27 & 28, 2013

Denver Mart I-25 and 58th Ave., Denver, Colorado

Before registering for class, you may view the images on the RMBS web site, www.rockybeads.org, and see the samples at RMBS meetings. Each class description lists skill requirements which are explained below. Please review this information so you can properly prepare for the class.

When determining the skill level for your class, please use the following definitions:

- Beginner: No experience in any type of beadwork.
- Advanced Beginner: Has experience in similar types of work and is ready to learn this technique.
- Intermediate: Has prior experience with this type of work and is ready to learn variations.
- Advanced: Has completed several projects using this technique and is ready for a challenge.
- All: Open to anyone.

For most bead classes, the student should bring scissors, bead mat or work surface, needles, thread, work light with extension cord, and most important, glasses or magnifier if needed. Please check carefully the list of tools that the student must bring. Most instructors will not provide tools for the entire class, and may not have tools for sale. Please be prepared so you will get the most out of your class.

Each class has a minimum and maximum number of students. If the class does not meet the minimum, the class will be cancelled by RMBS and you will receive a refund of your class fee. There will be no refunds for any other reason than cancellation by RMBS.

Admission to the Bazaar is not included in the class price and it is strongly suggested that you prepay for your admission when you pay for your class. You will receive your admission ticket when you check in for class at the front desk. If you are taking multiple classes, you will only check in one time.

New This Year! Friday Classes!

This year, we are offering a few classes on Friday to help those who are new to beading to acquire some basic skills to enable them to take some more advanced classes. The Bazaar will NOT be open for shopping during these classes, but an admission ticket, good for the entire weekend, will still be required. Students for the Friday classes will still be required to check in at the front desk.
